A CHECK ARTIST

FLITTED THROUGH

The Things That William Haley Did and the Things That Were Done to Him in a Single Day.

William Haley who posed as a union printer, though none of the fraternity in Phoenix recognized him as such, cashed a fictitious check at Baswitz's yesterday morning. He was captured an hour afterward at Maricopa; he eluded the vigilance of the officer who took him in charge, but later in the day he was retaken at Casa Grande, where he is held awaiting the arrival of an officer from this county. Deputy Sheriff Adams went after him last night.

The check was for $14.50, was drawn on the Phoenix National bank and bore a signature that looked like "E. E. Tucker." The check was payable to Haley.

When he offered it at Baswitz's place about 9 o'clock he claimed to be a printer and a member of the union, but all he offered in support of that claim was an I. T. U. button. The check bore the endorsement of Haley and D. Huntington, pressman for The Republican, but that signature was forged. Mr. Huntington had met Haley the evening before, soon after his arrival in town, and did not see him afterwards.

A precisely similar check was cashed at Casa Grande shortly before the appearance of Haley at Baswitz's place. Another check just like it was disposed of at the Anheuser saloon. There was still another at Boehmer's drug store.

An hour after accepting the check Mr. Baswitz did not feel sure of its genuineness as he would like to be and he took it to the bank, where he learned that it was worthless. He accordingly made complaint and a warrant was issued. There was only one train which Haley could have taken in the meantime; that was the 9:45 for Maricopa. Accordingly a description of him was telegraphed there and on the arrival of the train he was taken in charge by a railroad officer.

The officer was standing with his prisoner by the side of the track while a long eastbound passenger train was going by. As the last coach came up, Haley swung upon the front platform and the officer had only time to take the rear. The officer went through the train, but he saw nothing of Haley, and no wonder, for that individual had gone on top. He remained there until the train reached Casa Grande, when he came down and was taken into custody again.

ELECTION RESULT

ALMOST COMPLETE

Figures From One District Are Unofficial.

The water users' election was a regular Bryan victory. That is, it resulted in a majority for the contract proposition by a vote of approximately 16 to 1. The official figures have not been received from the eighth district, though the "no" vote was reported to the Water Users' association as 160, the "yes" vote being not yet reported. Unofficially the report from Mesa is that the vote stood as follows: Yes, 3,880; no, 260. If the semi-official no vote and the unofficial yes vote be used as a basis of calculation, the vote in the entire district is practically 16 to 1. Anyhow, that is so near that the incident loses further interest as a news item. Following is the full vote, except that the eighth district figures are not verified.

AMUSEMENTS

COLISEUM.

Tonight there will be a complete change of program given, introducing an entire new change of vaudeville turns.

Wilson and Rose will appear in a new comedy act introducing new singing and dancing and judging from the number presented by them in the early part of the week it will be well worth coming out to see. "Baby Libenow" will sing the song in which she made her initial appearance on the stage, "He Is My Pal." She will also appear in new violin solos. Baby Libenow has proved as great a favorite as in the past, as she is a wonderfully clever little child. The next and last number, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll, will appear in new parodies and Hebrew impersonations, and also in some new dancing turns. This act has made a great hit in the city since opening on Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll have just finished the second season with the Orpheum circuit and are now playing back to New York on the smaller time. There will be a number of new pictures given and new musical numbers by the orchestra.

ARIZONA OIL LANDS WITHDRAWN FROM ENTRY

The Government Holds Out 250,000 Acres of Oil Bearing Land in Mojave County.

From an order received at the local land office yesterday it would appear that the government authorities suspect that there is oil bearing land in Arizona. Two hundred and fifty thousand acres of land in northern Mojave county, north of the Colorado river, have been withdrawn from entry and designated Petroleum Reserve No. 1.

The land is a part of the strip that Utah has long desired to annex to that state. Mojave county is the northwest corner of the territory and sparsely settled and little surveyed. Oil prospects have been found and there are now many prospectors looking for oil rock in that county, especially south along the Bill Williams river.

The land withdrawn is described as follows: Township 40 north, range 7, 8 and 9 west, and township 41 north, range 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 west of the Gila and Salt River base and meridian lines, and township 43 south, ranges 15 and 16 west of the Salt Lake meridian.

It is to be fervently hoped that the general land office is correct in the assumption that there is oil in Arizona. It has not yet been found, though traces are abundant, even within a few miles of Phoenix. Development of oil claims is now going on in many parts of the territory, and it is quite probable that sooner or later somebody will strike a gusher and the problem of cheap motive power will be solved.

The withdrawal order was dated July 2.

MINERAL EXHIBIT AT MICHIGAN FAIR

Suggestion of a Gila County Man to Arizona Commercial Bodies.
Henry M. Woods, justice of the peace at Rice, Gila county, has addressed to the commercial bodies in the various Arizona cities suggesting the advisability of an Arizona display at the Michigan state fair next September. Mr. Woods through a friend who formerly lived in Arizona has secured free space for such an exhibit if it can be made and says the fair will be a big one, $100,000 being given away in prizes.

In a letter to the Phoenix board of trade Mr. Woods suggests that an agricultural exhibit might be sent from Phoenix if thought desirable, but in any event he thinks there should be a mineral display from the territory at large, each county, each commercial organization and each mine and mining district that can be induced to do so sending whatever it can to do such a collection. Arizona has notable agricultural belts, but the one big industry that spreads over nearly all the territory is that of mining and a mining display can be more easily made than any other.

It would only cost the slight expense of a few dollars in each county for freight charges on the specimens sent and Mr. Woods believes that the specimens could be sold during the fair for enough to pay the freight charges. It is not designed to make a notable exhibit, such as would be found at the territorial fair where huge blocks of ore, pigs of copper bullion, show cases of samples, etc., are seen, but just a collection of mineral specimens showing the variety and richness of the Arizona mines.

Secretary Welch has referred his letter to J. C. Goodwin of Tempe, who has charge of the mineral display at the territorial fair ground, for such suggestions as he may have to offer.

WELCOME EXTENDED TO DELEGATE CAMERON

Joint Celebration and Watermelon Feast on Plaza at 730 Tonight.

Ralph Cameron, Arizona's delegate to congress, is expected to arrive here this morning and this evening will be tendered a reception on the city hall plaza. It will be under the auspices of the Commercial club and will be a nonpartisan meeting, designed to give all the people, whatever their political affiliations, an opportunity to meet the delegate and congratulate him on the brilliant achievements that have marked his efforts in Washington.

There will be a season of oratory, which will be presided over by Mayor Christy as chairman. Attorney H. H. Howard will deliver an address and Mr. Cameron himself is expected to speak. It is anticipated that there will be large delegations from the south side, from Glendale and from Uckey and other outlying sections, and all will be made welcome and be urged to attend. Mr. Cameron will be met at the depot this morning by a committee of the club and escorted to his hotel, after which he will spend the day as he chooses, becoming the guest of the Commercial club again in the evening, when the populace assembles on the city hall plaza.

Following the speechmaking there will occur the first annual Phoenix watermelon day celebration, which will consist of the cutting and serving of ten or twelve tons of watermelons, donated by the members of the Salt River Valley Watermelon Growers' association. The melons will be free to all and will be cut and served to all comers. Those who attend, however, and desire to get themselves outside of a fine piece of luscious watermelon, are advised to bring apsons in their pockets for the manipulation of the juicy meat.

An effort will be made to assemble and entertain an immense crowd of people and the fire department has been secured to superintend the serving of the melons. The band stand will be fittingly decorated and everything possible will be done to make the occasion one long to be remembered.

A BURNING HOTEL TWO KNOWN DEAD

Thought to Have Been Fired by a Drunken Musician.

Hoquiam, Wash., July 22.—The Hoquiam hotel, a fashionable apartment house here, caught fire early this morning and set fire to all the buildings within 500 feet. Only a change of wind saved the business section of the town from destruction. About a dozen guests of the hotel leaped from the windows and two of them were seriously injured. Two men are missing and they may have perished.

The New York hotel, two blocks away, and filled with visiting state bankers, caught fire three times, and the guests ran out in their nightclothes. The damage will run to more than $100,000. Later it was definitely learned that two lives were lost. Two workmen are missing.

THE CAUSE OF THE FIRE.
Hoquiam, Wash., July 22.—The known dead in the Hoquiam hotel fire early this morning are: Mrs. Mary Olsen and C. E. Junnetts. The bodies were recovered this afternoon. The police have arrested F. A. Schwabe, a musician, on suspicion of being connected with the fire. It is alleged that Schwabe returned to his apartments early today intoxicated, and was refused admittance by his wife, whereupon he went into the basement and either by accident or design set fire to the building.

THE COLORADO INQUIRY.

The President Approves the Appointment of Ockerson.

Washington, July 22.—President Taft has approved the appointment by the interior department of J. A. Ockerson to investigate the conditions in the Imperial valley, California, where serious damage is threatened by the Colorado river.

Whether he will be retained to take charge of the engineering work depends upon his report to the president.

CATCHING AT CLUES.

There is deep, mysterious meaning in the slightest thing, you'll find. When a statesman's darkly screening All the workings of his mind. Some vove his silence shows the land That he is with them heart and hand.

If some one smiles serenely When he has eaten lunch That smile is studied keenly As a portentous hunch. The wise ones say the circumstance Is full of grave significance.

And if in friendly prattle He says "It's warm today" The telegraph will rattle To send the news away. It shows to reasoning refined A superheated state of mind.

LOS ANGELES BRANCH OF PHOENIX BOARD

It Is Expected an Information Bureau Will Soon Be Located.

Colonel J. H. McClintock left here last night for a few weeks' outing in Los Angeles and San Francisco. In Los Angeles he will meet S. H. Mitchell and General A. J. Sampson, all three of them directors of the Phoenix board of trade, and it is likely they will co-operate in securing a location in that city for a branch office of the Phoenix board.

This is in accordance with the plan the board has been working on for a long time. There seems to be no difference of opinion concerning the advisability of the project, for Los Angeles is undoubtedly the great center of distribution of the army of people looking to the west for homes and investments. Many thousands go there every winter, not expecting to remain in that city, or even in that county, but to learn there just where to go to find what they are looking for. Los Angeles has passed beyond the stage of looking for new population among the working classes, preferring to build up the tributary country. It therefore welcomes the immigration bureau representing any nearby section and will co-operate with the Phoenix board in directing settlers this way. It is believed that the money of the Phoenix board, spent in one place to the extent necessary to make the work effective, will bring better results through the maintenance of an office in Los Angeles than by scattering it over more territory promiscuously.

Two or three locations have already been suggested to the board of trade committee and others may be when they arrive. The plan is to secure some place as near to the center of attraction for the homeseeker as possible, maintain an office under the direction of a competent person, where literature can be had on application, all information furnished and possibly frequent lectures on the Salt River Valley be given.
